

War of the Workstations

Jean S. Bozman, Computerworld, Nov. 6, 1995, p 6—Midrange Unix market.

Transarc Delivers DCE Software for Sun Users

Jean S. Bozman, Computerworld, Nov. 6, 1995, pp 59, 69.

Baan Focuses Unix Software Offering on Automotive Industry

Computerworld, Nov. 6, 1995, pp 87, 92.

Sun 64-Bit Systems Set to Go

John Foley and Brian Gillooly, InformationWeek, Nov. 6, 1995, p 16.

Platinum Loses Its Shine

Doug Bartholemew, Information Week, Nov. 6, 1995, p 26—Platinum Technology drops Unix accounting software.

Oracle Eyes "Bare-Bones" Machine

Katherine Bull, InformationWeek, Nov. 6, 1995, p 30.

Future Unix: The Devil's in the Details

John Foley, InformationWeek, Nov. 6, 1995, pp 120, 122—SCO, HP, Novell working out details.

Sun Unveils New Workstation Architecture

Yvonne L. Lee, InfoWorld, Nov. 6, 1995, p 12.

Underground Tools Aid Fledgling Hackers

Mitch Wagner and Gary H. Anthes, Computerworld, Nov. 13, 1995, pp 1, 159.

Platinum Dumps Unix

Julia King, Computerworld, Nov. 13, 1995, p 4.

VMS Users Gaining 64-bit Advantage

Michael Goldberg, Computerworld, Nov. 13, 1995, p 6—Digital's OpenVMS version 7.0.

Power Pricing

Thomas Hoffman, Computerworld, Nov. 13, 1995, p 8—Computer Associates cuts CA-Unicenter pricing.

Sun's Ultra Machines Debut

Computerworld, Nov. 13, 1995, p 8—Item in "News Shorts" reports.

IBM Under the Hood

Lisa Picarille, Computerworld, Nov. 13, 1995, p 46—IBM's microkernel.

Unifying Unix: Now It's Hewlett-Packard's Turn

John Foley, InformationWeek, Nov. 13, 1995, p 22.

More Windows on Unix

John Foley, InformationWeek, Nov. 13, 1995, p 90—Windows emulation under Unix.

X/Open, OSF to Unite Activities

Jean S. Bozman, Computerworld, Nov. 20, 1995, p 4.

Workstations Under Attack

Jaikumar Vijayan, Computerworld, Nov. 20, 1995, p 14.

Time for Industry Press to Wake Up

Mike Niemi, Computerworld, Nov. 20, 1995, p 36.

"Dream Team" Mergers of the Future

Patricia Seybold, Computerworld, Nov. 20, 1995, p 37.

Sun Launches Low-Cost Ultra Unix Line

Jean S. Bozman, Computerworld, Nov. 20, 1995, pp 49, 56.

HP Revamps Midrange Technical Units

Jean S. Bozman, Computerworld, Nov. 20, 1995, p 49.

Unix Consolidation Plan to be Detailed in December

Jean S. Bozman, Computerworld, Nov. 20, 1995, p 56.

3Q

InformationWeek, Nov. 20, 1995, p 12—Interview with Sun CTO Eric Schmidt.

CA Trims Most Prices on Unicenter

Barbara DePompa, InformationWeek, Nov. 20, 1995, p 22.

Lotus to Offer Notes for Alpha

Stephanie Stahl, InformationWeek, Nov. 20, 1995, p 26.

Sun Displays UltraSparc

David Needle, InformationWeek, Nov. 20, 1995, p 26.

Bright Light

Caryn Gillooly, InformationWeek, Nov. 20, 1995, p 56—Profile of Sun CIO Bill Raduchel.

SunSoft to Announce PC-NFS Pro 2.0

InfoWorld, Nov. 20, 1995, p 3.

SCO Unveils Products to Integrate Unix Servers

Mark Leon, InfoWorld, Nov. 20, 1995, p 43.

Pentium Pro Repositioned

Sebastian Rupley, PC Magazine, Nov. 21, 1995, p 29—At the workstation market.

Chicago Exchange to Trade Mainframe for RS/6000s

Jean S. Bozman, Computerworld, Nov. 27, 1995, p 14.—Chicago Board Options Exchange to migrate from Amdahl mainframes to Unix servers.

Sun Releases Solaris 2.5

Jean S. Bozman, Computerworld, Nov. 27, 1995, pp 51, 54.

NASA Deal May Open NT Window

InformationWeek, Nov. 27, 1995, p 28.

Vendors Rally for 64-bit Unix

Dave Andrews, Byte, November 1995, p 47.

OS Paradise

Tom Yager, Byte, November 1995, pp 81-82, 84, 86, 88-89, 94-96, 98.

Not That DOS

Paul Korzeniowski, Byte, November 1995, pp

113-114, 116, 118—Distributed operating systems.

Sincere OS Flattery

Bary Nance, Byte, November 1995, pp 119-120, 122—Emulation.

And One for All

David S. Linthicum, Byte, November 1995, pp 131-132, 134, 136—Cross-platform development.

Open(ing) VMS to Win32

Mark Feniello, Byte, November 1995, pp 251-252.

What Does Tomorrow Hold for Unix Vendors?

Client/Server Computing, November 1995, p 16.

An Attempt at Addressing a Unix Paradox

Valerie E. M., Client/Server Computing, November 1995, p 22.

Comparative Review of Six Introductory Unix Books

D. T. Barnard, Computing Reviews, November 1995, pp 560-562.

Informix on the Move

Theresa Rigney, DBMS, November 1995, pp 46-48, 50, 102.

And Now, the OAG

Natalie Engler, Open Computing, November 1995, pp 15-16—Open Applications Group formed.

It's Official: Windows NT Is Open

Michael Goulde, Open Computing, November 1995, p 27.

TCP/IP on PC LANs

Claire Tristram, Open Computing, November 1995, pp 46-47.

Is Unix COBOL?

Larry O'Brien, Software Development, November 1995, pp 7, 10.

Running Out of Time

Michael W. Bucken, Software Magazine, November 1995, p 4—Unix running out of time to unify before Windows NT grows.

NetWare Goes to SCO—Three-Way Deal Includes HP

Software Magazine, November 1995, p 18—Item in "Newsfront."

Signs are HP, IBM and DEC Will Carry on with Distributed Method

Jack Vaughan, Software Magazine, November 1995, pp 21-22.

Midrange Operating Systems Aim to Serve

Broom Riggs, Software Magazine, November 1995, pp 96-98, 101-103.

Choosing TCP/IP for the Desktop

Steven Baker, Unix Review, November 1995, pp 17-20, 22-23.

High Availability in Unix Environments

Chris Rooke, Unix Review, November 1995, pp 35-36, 38, 40-43.

Hot Database Backups on Unix

Earl Jones, Unix Review, November 1995, pp 45-46, 48-50, 52-53. IT

Eric S. Rosenthal is an East Coast-based technical consultant.